A brokerage builds a file that can be re-performed

She is selling in Calgary and buying in Kelowna, with six months left on her mortgage. Twelve screens, in order, from her first question to her broker's answer.

Demo data. Invented figures. Estimates, not lender quotes.

He invites her, from his own file

The link goes out under the brokerage's name. She comes in through him, not around him.

What worries you most about this move?

Paying for two houses at once.

If you had to give up one thing, a lower rate or a payment you can carry on less income, which goes first?

The rate. We might have another baby and I need a payment that works on leave.

What do you already know about moving a mortgage before the term ends?

I thought you just paid a penalty. That's all I know.
